Dear Ms Chapman,

I hope you will forgive me for taking such a long time to be in touch. As you may know, your book below was nominated for the Australasian Journal on Ageing Book Award in 2019:

Counselling and Psychotherapy with Older People in Care: A Support Guide.
Chapman, F. Jessica Kingsley Publishers, 2017.

Your book explores an important issue, and psychologists, counsellors and other professionals will find it particularly useful. Your book received high ratings from the Panel, but in the event was not awarded the prize.

A review of the book will be published in the AJA in 2020, but I would like to share some comments from the Panel about it. Reviewers made comments such as:

This book is well written and supported throughout with appropriate references from evidence-based literature. . . . [It] inspires the reader to understand the importance of providing services to this population.

[The book] does an excellent job of describing the key issues with working with the oldest-old in nursing homes.

Congratulations on your valuable contribution!

Yours sincerely,

Yvonne Wells
